

"East Branch" of the Penobscot, Mr. Scribner mentioned the occurrence of Clematis verticillata, a rare and beautiful vine closely related to the common Virgin's Bower; Altium Schenoprasum, L. a pretty plant rarely found in this State, except in the gardens, where it is known by the name of Ulives; and Aster glaucifolius, an uncommon plant and new to the flora of Maine. During the past season, several new species have been added to the list of the plants of Orono and vicinity. For these I am indebted to Amos Allen, Esq. of Orono, an acute observer and en-

this section of the country and bought up all the good lots of tobacco, paying from 20 to 45 cents per pound right through, buying it on the poles; and farmers feel very jubilant over it. No frost here as yet—beautiful weather for doing out door work &c.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 3d. C. B. G.

Another Good Wheat Crop.

I raised twenty-three bushels of extra hard wheat, clean wheat on 152 rods of land. It is all the Michigan top about twenty rods.

Monmouth. S. M. ECKERSON.

trees in my orchard were dressed with decayed vegetable matter. I have generally set out from my nursery a few trees every spring, and partly to get rid of the rubbish accumulated in the wood yard and shed, have dug a hole two or three feet in depth in my orchard and filled it about half full of chips and bark, the cleanings of the wood yard, and covered it with a couple of inches of rich dirt and planted a tree in the centre. By the gradual decay of the mass of chips beneath the tree, its benefit will be noticed for several years. The most thrifty tree on my premises was set out

Planting Bulbs.

One can do many things in October or November, or provided the ground is not frozen. Varieties mostly planted in autumn are tulips, hyacinths, crocuses, snow-drops, pansies, crown-imperials, &c. They require a little, somewhat sandy soil and, should be two inches below the surface. Hyacinths, to have them in perfection, should be planted every fall, but the others may be in the ground for two or three years.

over the bowl, and soak till soft; then put in a battered paste, and fry till it is a chemical action, which tends to make us breathe, and to infuse strength frames. Dark rooms are useful for the frankish beings.

THE RUSS SIOU. The Indian corn be the roasted coffee, ground fine in a mill, and mixed with milk, or cream, baked in this. It will be retained by the most exposed. Parched corn and meal boiled in milk is said to cure summer diarrhoea in

